Professional Experience

Hyperlocology

Hyperlocology is a people-first marketing platform that's reinventing how franchise brands and their franchisees collaborate to create more meaningful engagements with local consumers.

Hyperlocology was developed to solve one of the biggest marketing challenges that has plagued multi-location and franchise brands for decades: How to create, manage, and report on thousands of unique digital ad campaigns, with distinct budgets and messages, in one central place. As team members, we encourage each other to align with great and innovate. As a company, we build deep relationships with our franchise brand partners to solve problems and build the world's leading per-location advertising platform.
